Skip traffic, bike to work on May 14

MAY 14, 2015

May 14 marks the Bay Area's 21st annual Bike to Work Day when commuters put down their car keys, strap on a helmet and bike to work or BART.

This is the largest event in California encouraging bike commuting as a fun, affordable form of transportation that supports better health every day.

On Bike to Work Day "Energizer Stations" will be located along bike commute routes and at BART stations where bicyclists can stop for refreshments, giveaways and bicycling information, or simply to be cheered on by fellow participants.

Energizer Stations will be open during morning commute hours, and select stations will re-open during evening commute hours. Visit youcanbikethere.com for details.

BIKE TO WORK DAY EVENTS AT BART STATIONS

Start Bike to Work Day off right with a stop at a BART Bike Station. Snacks, drinks and camaraderie will be available at the Fruitvale Bike Station. Stop by the Downtown Berkeley Bike Station and enjoy fresh, hot pancakes, coffee and juice (while supplies last).

ASHBY STATION

The Ashby Bike Station is located just outside the main entrance to the station. It is a self-service facility and requires a BikeLink Card.

EMBARCADERO STATION

The Embarcadero Bike Station is located on the concourse level below Market Street, near the Davis Street entrance. It is a self-service facility and requires a BikeLink Card.

Extended hours for Oakland's Broadway Shuttle

Downtown Oakland residents, workers and revelers can now ride the "Free B" Broadway Shuttle until 10 pm Monday through Thursday. The shuttle also runs until 1 am on Fridays and Saturdays, until the last BART trains depart from the 12th St./Oakland City Center and 19th St./Oakland BART stations. Find the full schedule and other information at Bshuttle.com

Launched in 2010 to provide fast, convenient access to downtown's offices, social services, and Oakland's growing number of restaurants, art galleries and entertainment venues, the Free B connects passengers to BART, AC Transit, Capitol Corridor, Amtrak and the San Francisco Bay Ferry.

The route also weaves together all of downtown's neighborhoods: Jack London Square, Chinatown, Old Oakland, Central Downtown, Uptown, Lake Merritt, KONO and the Valdez Triangle.

Introducing bart.gov/bartable

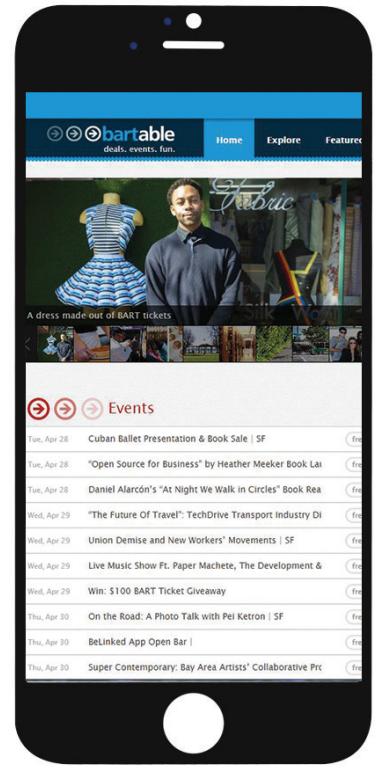

One of our goals at BART is to connect riders with destinations they care about. That's why I'm excited to announce the launch of a great new resource for the Bay Area: bart.gov/bartable. BARTable is a new website that highlights fun things to do near BART stations.

The website is free and easy to use. On bart.gov/bartable, you'll find discounts, a comprehensive events calendar, an "Explore" function that allows you to find BARTable destinations, plus weekly giveaways and articles written by BART-riding writers. You'll find award-winning restaurants, biking trails, upcoming concerts and much more ... all just a BART ride away.

You can access the website from your desktop or mobile device. I hope you enjoy this great new resource—try it today!

Tracks closed some weekends through August

Vital repairs are needed to the equipment and tracks between Fruitvale and Coliseum stations. The work requires that the entire track be shut down and that no trains operate between these stations while it is being performed. To cause the least amount of inconvenience, we are scheduling this work mostly on Saturday nights and all day Sunday on some weekends through August.

To accommodate your travel while the work is being done, we will have a "bus bridge" providing lifeline service for customers who don't have other options. The buses will carry customers between the two stations. There will be no additional charge for the bus. The bus bridge will cause 30-60 minute delays for some customers.

We recommend that you avoid travel between Fruitvale and Coliseum on the designated weekends if possible.

Before traveling, check bart.gov and look for bulletins in the station for new or updated information. Visit bart.gov for work schedule and more information.

Shuttle

for the Free B – ridership since inception surpassed three million as workers, residents and visitors left their cars at home and hopped aboard the clean diesel shuttles to commute, shop and eat.

All this ridership has translated into a smaller carbon footprint for Oakland and the region. The Free B reduces vehicle miles driven by 3.3 million each year and eliminates four tons of annual automobile emissions.

The Free B is operated under a contract with AC Transit and funded by an innovative public/private partnership.
